LIGHT LEATHER

Horde players your spot isn't quite as good because the respawn rate isn't as quick, but you can't beat the location right outside Orgrimmar in and around Rocktusk Farm. Simply kill the various swine you find there including the ones in the pen. I was able to level a Horde skinner from level 1 to 75 at this location.

MEDIUM LEATHER

---

A spot that drops medium and heavy leather I'd suggest the Crystalvein Mine in the Cape of Stranglethorn.

You simply kill the Basilisks outside the mine entrance and then the ones inside the mines rinse and repeat as needed. You will get Medium Leather and a bit of heavy here. The Basilisks are level 30 or thereabout.

---

HEAVY LEATHER

---

Heavy Leather can be easy to farm because there are one awesome spot to farm in Duskwallow Marsh. This spot are also close to the Mudsprocket flight point making them easy to access for both the the Horde and Alliance.

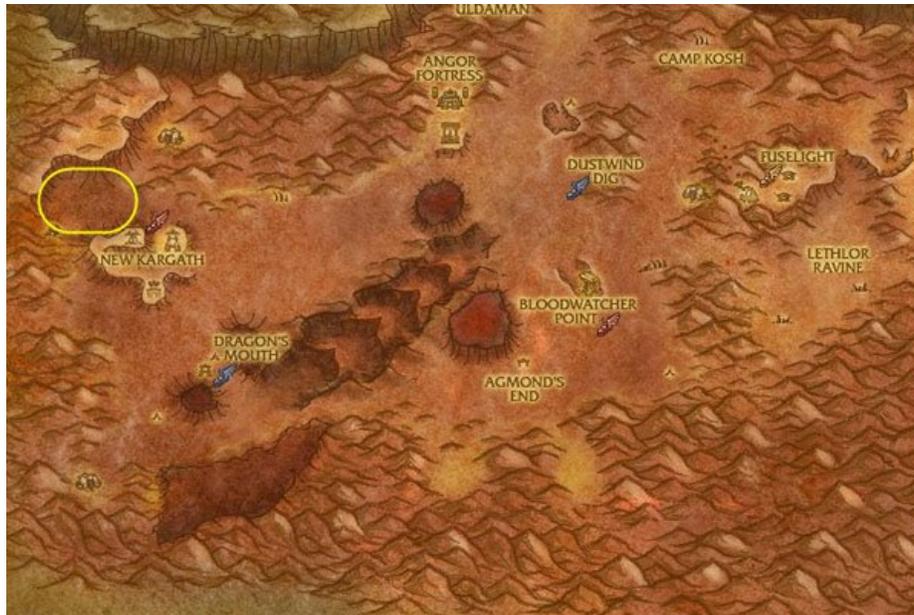

---

THICK LEATHER

---

The best place to farm Thick Leather is in Badlands. Horde players have it easy because the farming zone is right behind New Kargath. Alliance characters are going to have to be sneaky to access this zone. The actual name of the zone is the Ruins of Kargath. You are going to be killing and skinning Nyxondra's Broodlings. These welps are level 46-47 and they drop Thick Leather roughly 90% of the time here.

---

RUGGED LEATHER

---

I have have just one great spot for you to farm Rugged Leather and that is in the Blasted Lands. Part of the reason the location is so good is that you can take the portal from your capital city to the Dark Portal and then simply start farming, and once you're done simply hearth home. This makes this location easy to access for Horde or Alliance. Once your there you're going to kill and skin all the Fel Hounds, Ashmane Boars, Snickerfang Hyenas, Redstone Basilisks and the Tainted Black Bears. These are level 55 -58 creatures.

KNOTHIDE LEATHER

---

Knothide Leather is really fun and easy to farm if you have a high level character. The best place to farm Knothide Leather is also going to require you to be at least level 70 and have a flying mount as the spot is question is only accessible via a flying mount. From the Cenarion Thicket fly up and northeast to find the ledge. The area is called Razorthorn Rise. You're going to kill and skin all the Razorthorn Ravagers there.

---

BOREAN LEATHER

---

There are lots of places to farm Borean Leather in Northrend, but I think the best spot is in the Sholazar Basin.

I have this zone circled on the map above. You're going to kill and skin the Hardknuckle Foragers and the Hardknuckle Chargers found in the area around Frenzyheart Hill.

SAVAGE LEATHER

---

The best place to farm Savage Leather is on the Tol Peninsula rather than in the PVP Battle Zone. You will be killing spiders inside the area I marked on the map below.

---

EXOTIC LEATHER

---

Best Exotic Leather farming spot for levels 86-89s

Grassy Cline:

A great spot for level 86s+ is the Grassy Cline in the Valley of the Four Winds.

The small pond there is full of Wyrnhorn Turtles. A level 90 can pull several of these at time. They drop about 65/35 Sha-Touched vs. Exotic Leather, but they drop prismatic scales like crazy. Plus you get other value drops for your time: the turtle meat which sells on most realms, vendor turtle scales, and the intestine bonus drop that also contains vendor items and just for the hell of it a good drop rate on Motes of Harmony.
